Burns in Critical Care

Elective Unit

Unit overview:

This exciting and informative Burns in Critical Care Elective Unit will enable you to develop the underpinning knowledge and skills required to manage the complexities of the critically ill burn injured individual.

Unit content:

The curriculum covers all aspects of paediatric and adult burn injury critical care including

- Transfer and acceptance of Burn Critical Care patients
- Managing burn shock and fluid resuscitation
- Assessment and management of inhalation injury
- Advanced respiratory management techniques
- Signs and symptoms of sepsis/SIRS in the critically ill burn patient
- Family support for critically ill burn patients
- Functional positioning and passive movement in burn critical care patients
- ...and much more

The Burns in Critical Care Elective Unit can be accessed by way of accredited academic study or as an informal means to learn more about burn management through attendance only participation.

What does it involve?

Academic Study

Participating in an interactive programme of study that combines e-learning, face to face taught sessions, self directed study, practical demonstrations, debates, discussions, placement/practice learning and completing summative assessments.

Attendance only

Participating in all of the above except placement/practice learning and no requirements to submit summative assessments.

Where and when?
